Enter to Learn; Depart to Serve The Hornet

Morris College
Sumter, South Carolina
Dr. Luns C. Richardson, President

The Way It Began . . .

The Alma Mater

Morris our college dear
With hearts filled with cheer
We come to thee
throughout life's checkered ways
Thy name we'll ever praise
Teacher of youthful ways
All hail to thee.

When from our homes we came
To own thy lofty name
Breathe courage free
Parents and teachers dear
Calmed by the lack of fear
Pay homage through the years
All hail to thee.

Composed by Ms. Ida Y. Pullens

The Motto

“Enter to Learn, Depart to Serve.”

Foreword

The Hornet Staff invites you to share through picture, College life 1990-91. The staff especially asks that you endeavor to capture the pleasure, joy, excitement and fulfillment of study; the awesomeness of Convocations and Commencement; the pleasure of participation in all aspects of student activities; the grandeur of the Homecoming celebration; the elegance of the Coronation of "Miss Morris College" and more, more, more, . . . all a part of achieving an education as defined by Robert Hulchins:

Education is not to reform students or amuse them or to make them expert technicians. It is to unsettle their minds, widen their horizons, inflame their intellects, teach them to think straight, if possible.

Dr. Luns C. Richardson
President

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE FOR THE 1990-1991 YEARBOOK

To the Students of Morris College

The theme of the 1991 Morris College yearbook is "Making Breakthroughs." My dictionary tells me that one definition of a breakthrough is "A major achievement of success that permits further progress," and on that basis I believe that the theme is most appropriate. All of our graduating seniors who have worked so hard to earn their degrees have truly accomplished a major achievement or success, and I am confident that the knowledge that they have gained through this effort will now permit them to make further progress.

For our graduating seniors, this yearbook will probably be the most vivid reminder of both their experiences here at Morris College and of the faculty and staff who helped them to shape their understanding of that complicated world that they are about to enter. If they are like most graduates, they will keep it as a prized possession for the rest of their lives, and it will serve to remind them of those college years that so many adults point to as some of the best years of their lives. However, we hope that their association with Morris College from now on will not be merely a memory in a yearbook but that it will include occasional visits back to the campus and active participation in our alumni organization.

Good luck to all of our students, and may you each have a successful future.

Sincerely,
Luns C. Richardson
President

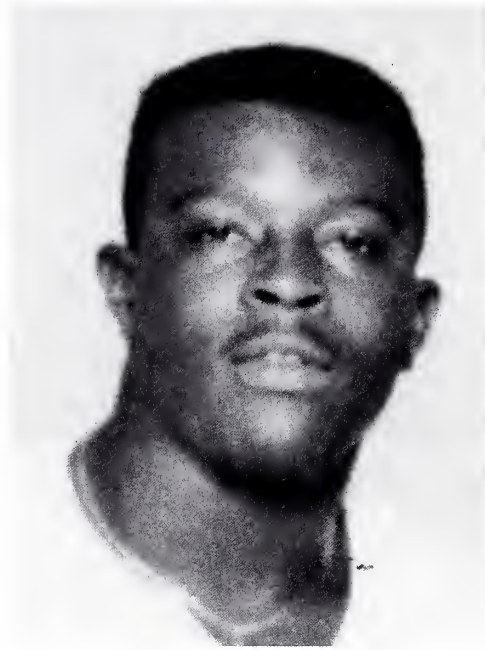

Dr. Stewart C. Cureton, President, Baptist E and M Convention of S. C.

Don't Quit

When things go wrong
as they sometimes will,
When the road you're
trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low,
the debts are high,
And you want to smile,
but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing
you down a bit—
Rest if you must,
but don't you quit.
Success if failure
turned inside out,
The silver tint of
the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell
how close you are,
It may be near when
it seems afar.
So, stick to the fight
when you're hardest hit—
It's when things go wrong
that you mustn't quit.

The theme of this occasion was "Toward a Greater Commitment to Serving Humanity." Brother Finney delivered a high-powered, challenging speech to the student body, faculty and staff. He challenged everyone to commit themselves to serve humanity in a better way. After Brother Finney delivered his speech, he was awarded a plaque that named him as the Xi Epsilon Chapters "Man of the Year". Additional awards were made to the freshman male and female with the highest G.P.A. for the Fall semester. The chapter also presented a new copy of the fraternity's history book, "The History of Alpha Phi Alpha", to Ms. Clara Gordon, Librarian, to be placed in the library. Togetherness

Alpha, Omegas, Deltas, Zetas and AKAs were the center of attention at the annual EIAC Greek step show and dance. On Saturday, February 16, 1991, members of Greek letter organization performed dance routines which are called "steppin". Members of the organization represented various schools like Morris and Voorhees College. Morris College was the first school to perform at this annual event. Representing Morris were the women of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Delta Sigma Theta and Zeta Phi Beta. The women of these sororities combined their performances into one big act which proved to be a first for the school. The men of Alpha Phi Alpha of Voorhees College performed next with great precision. Their act electrified the audience and kept them captivated. When you hear Delta Sigma Theta you immediately think of poise and beauty. This is exactly what the women of this organization from Voorhees supplied for the audience. They performed to the stylish music for the audience. These young women not only represented beauty and poise, but togetherness. Unity was the theme presented by all those organizations including a one man Omega Psi Phi act who later received help from his fraternity brothers. Together, these organizations are spreading the word about staying in school and unifying

THE ATHLETES' PRAYER

Oh Heavenly Father and Creator of all things, guide me for I am the humble mortal athlete You created in Your likeness.

I ask not for riches or fame, not even more opportunities; instead, I ask for guidance that I better utilize my God- given abilities and opportunities.

Like no other creature on earth, You have blessed my mind and body to perform with great skill, grace and power. You have instilled in my soul a burning desire to excel to limits that only You know.

Dear Lord, without Your guidance my enthusiasm is weak and my spirit is low, and I will fall short of all the potential You've blessed me with.

The field I have chosen is abundant with opportunity; yet, it is full of heartbreak and despair.

Help me focus a clear vision of the pleasure and the triumph that accompany victory and achievement; yet, may I be exposed to the agonies of defeat so that my experience is genuine.

I have already walked with merchant of chaos and stumbled in ignorance.

Guide my words and deeds that they may be fruitful to the minds and souls of many who aspire high achievement but lack inspiration.

Expose me to hate, greed, and fear so they are no strangers to me; yet, fill my heart with love and compassion so that I will turn strangers into friends.

May I soar like the eagle against my opponents for this is my goal.

May my reactions be as quick and forceful as the tiger for many long hours do I practice and train for this.

Lord, bless me with the vision of the hawk so that my mind perceives things when my eyes do not.

Discipline me in the habit of trying, and trying again, in spite of my defeats so that my place in life shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

Favor me with the intelligence to know that problems and suffering are but a test of my faith, and devotion, and problems/suffering shall come to pass.

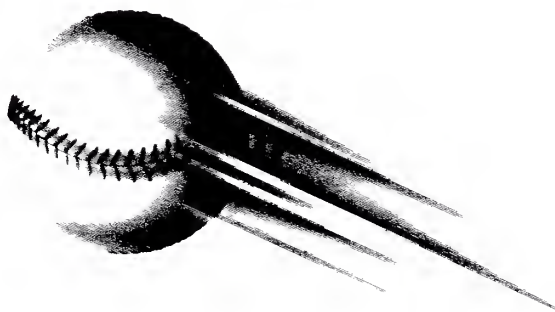

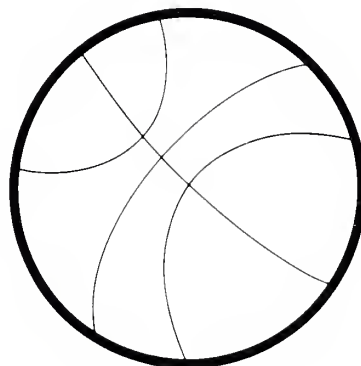

When it is my time to face failure, help me confront this imposter with grace and courage so that I never fear failure.

Bless me with the wisdom to learn from the deceit of failure for he is only a small defeat in a lifelong battle, and most of all, he is temporary (It too will Pass).

But all these things be only if it's thy will, Heavenly Father, for I honor Thy will. I am but an humble athlete; yet, Thou hast made me in Thine own image, and different from all other creatures on earth. Verily, there must be a special place for me.

In Jesus Christ's name, guide this athlete, God.

The E.I.A.C. Tournament was held February 14-16 at the Sumter County Exhibition Center. The three-day event carried with it many exciting activities.

The scheduled events started on Wednesday evening, February 14 with Miss E.I.A.C. Pageant in the Neal-Jones Auditorium along with the Athletic Banquet in Daniels Dining Hall.

Friday, February 16, the second round of conference play off began at 2:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m.

Saturday, February 17, the championship games were played at 1:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m. Later that evening students from the different schools along with the Sumter Community settled down for an evening of great entertainment. The speaker for the occasion was Coach John McLendon, Jr. Coach McLendon became the first black to graduate from the University of Kansas' physical education program in 1936, and received a graduate degree from the University of Iowa. During his years as a coach, he worked with North Carolina, Tennessee A & I, the National Industrial League, the Cleveland Pipers, Kentucky State University, and Cleveland State University. Coach McLendon took Tennessee A & I to the NAIA championships in 1957, 1958, and 1959; being the first coach in American basketball history to win three consecutive championships. While coaching at Tennessee A & I, he served as coordinator of athletics and health. Coach McLendon designed and refined many facets of basketball including the fast break and the zone press.

John McLendon, Jr. has a list of honors that would do justice to three men. His well-deserved recognition reflects a dedication to the sport of basketball and the players. A brief listing of his honors are: CIAA Coach of the year, 1948; CIAA Coach of the Decade 1946-1955; NAIA Coach of the Year 1958.

Coach McLendon retired in 1969 from the Denver Rockets, ending a 25-year coaching career with a winning percentage of nearly .800 among the best records of all modern day coaches. In 1981, his alma mater, Kansas University, presented him with the University's highest award the Distinguished Service Citation. Today, John B. McLendon is the promotional representative for the Converse Rubber Company.

Two Years Later: The Aftermath of Hurricane Hugo

Hurricane Hugo struck early in the morning of September 22, 1989. The storm caused damage to the Academic Building, the Learning Resource Center, the Gymnasium and one of the residence halls.

Renovations

During the past two years the Learning Resources Center received a new roof, damaged interior walls were repainted and water-soaked carpeting were replaced. The resident hall that was damaged during the storm received a total renovation. The inside which included new rooms, new carpeting, additional rooms, and a new paint job. The Academic Building received the same renovations as did the residence hall because of the extensive damage it received from the storm. But the gymnasium was the worse of all. It had to be torn down. The Board of Trustees approved a resolution not to repair the facility but to construct a new Physical Education and Health Science Center.

The groundbreaking ceremony was held in April in the Neal-Jones Auditorium for the construction of the new Human Development Center.

Construction

The construction is well underway for the new 1.5 million dollar Human Development Center designed to replace the forty-year old Garrick Boykin Gymnasium that was demolished in late April.

MEMORIES

Students shared thoughts about the old gymnasium.

Alas, time does bring about changes. Thus up goes the new and down comes the old. Although architecture modern and new may bring us time of enjoyment; we will cherish the memories and the time of old we shared in the Garrick Boykin Gymnasium. Alfred E. Brown, Senior

Do you remember all the times we spent there — intramurals, basketball, dances, classes, balls, step shows, pingpong games, rallies and weightlifting contests? To the students of Morris College, the Garrick-Boykin Gymnasium with all of its 40 year history, served as home. The Garrick-Boykin suffered severe damage due to Hurricane Hugo and was demolished in late April. Angela M. Wise

"Marvin Davis going up alone for a slam dunk and missing during a basketball game." John H. Shepherd, Jr., Senior

"I remember the socials and playing for the "Troops" during intramurals." Travis Gordon, Senior

"Cheering for Lunar Daniels while he made his 3 point shots during the games." Christia Prioleau, Senior

"I remember my first game playing basketball for the Morris College Hornets ... "And No. 5 Lunar Daniels"; can't you still hear the crowd." Lunar Daniels, Senior

"I remember the socials and playing intramurals basketball for the MIAKA's, the reigning champions 1987-1988." Freddie Bellamy, Senior

"I remember walking past the baseball team fairyland Coach Houck sitting on the front steps everyday at lunch time." Latanya Jackson, Junior

National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week (NCAAW)

The National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week is in its seventh year. The NCAAW is sponsored by the Inter-Association task force on alcohol and other substances abuse. Issues set aside this week to serve as a focal point for alcohol education activities on college and university campus uses nationwide. The objectives of this week is to increase consciousness of alcohol misuse on college campuses and stress the need for effective prevention programs; to focus attention on different facts of the issue by scheduling special lectures or seminars, distributing literature and other activities; to highlight existing campus and community programs geared toward prevention and intervention; and, to promote responsible decision-making and healthy life-styles. As the week becomes a tradition on the calendars of most college campuses, it is increasingly important that new initiatives are introduced. It will be these innovative ideas combined with previously successful programs which will establish the foundation for dealing with the problem of illegal and abusive consumption of alcohol.

A guest lecturer for Alcohol Awareness Week.

President Richardson declared October 14-20, 1990 as Alcohol Awareness Week. "Alcohol Awareness Week at Morris College initiated a year-round emphasis on alcohol education and recognition of the individual's ultimate responsibility for decisions regarding use or non-use of alcohol," said President Richardson. The students' events stressed education and the individual's ultimate responsibility in making well-informed responsible decisions. The events included various presentations, displays and activities across the college campus aimed at prevention through education and individual responsibility in connection with the use of alcohol. "An important partnership was formed among students, faculty, administration and the community to encourage students to make responsible decisions regarding alcohol," said Kenny W. Rose, Director of Student Development Center and Coordinator of the event.

The Alma Mater

MORRIS our college dear
With hearts all filled with cheer
We come to thee:
Throughout life's checkered ways
Thy name we'll ever praise
Teacher of youthful ways
All hail to thee.
When from our homes we came
To own thy lofty name
Breathe courage free.
Parents and teachers dear
Calmed by the lack of fear
Pay homage through the years
All hail to thee.
